
STEVEN FARKAS, PMP, B.Sc.
MANAGER OF HEALTH & SAFETY

Steven assumed the role of Health and Safety Manager in October of 2007. Since that time the revitalized XDG program has seen the formation of a corporate Joint Health and Safety Committee, a structured training program with record retention, a new Health & Safety Handbook for all staff and membership in the Grand Valley Construction Association Safety Group Program. Utilizing a structured approach and the same project management principals employed on Steven's successful construction projects, the XDG Health and Safety Program is now focused on building awareness of safety issues for all staff members, sub-trades and clients. Working as either a Project Manager or as Health and Safety Manager Steven will be an asset to your project.
